

Generalissimo Franco Denies Backwardness of Government in Spain's Political Reform

(This is the third of three columns on Generalissimo Francisco Franco by DeWitt Mackenzie, who is the chief of the Spanish press and given an interview).

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
World Traveler
Madrid, Jan. 26.—Generalissimo Franco is quick to combat any suggestion that he is the chief of the Spanish party, but he has been backward in political reform, as I found during my interview with him at El Pardo, near Madrid.

He said that the progress of the revolution is relative. Progress, which would seem slow in one country might be rapid in another. He said that other Apparitions of this matter, he had asked Franco if he was backward in political reform, as I found during my interview with him at El Pardo, near Madrid.

"Yes. But we must proceed slowly—step by step—until the people are ready."

I introduced the question by saying the impression abroad is that you are moving forward rapidly. You have done towards political reform what the United States did in the 1930's. That is, rule by the people, and that, is rule, by the people.

"Yes. But we must proceed slowly—step by step—until the people are ready."

With much pleasure, he responded, "although it is very difficult for people to be able to understand the situation and events which went before. The situation and events which went before in Spain in political life, Spain has almost lived it very rapidly."

"It was almost a century and a half ago that we adopted democratic forms and passed through all the stages: The royalist stages with two great par-
